

If you fail to get your Star please telephone 7-3431 by 6:30 p. m. and a special carrier will deliver your paper.

Hope Star

For Weather Report See Column at Bottom of This Page

1ST YEAR, VOL. 61—NO. 282

Star of Hope 1899, Press 1927 Consolidated Jan. 18, 1929

HOPE, ARKANSAS, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1960

Member: The Associated Press & Audit Bureau of Circulations

PRICE 5c COPY

Reds May Use Knowledge Of Two Traitors

By ELTON FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviets may be expected to use the highly specialized knowledge of the two defected National Security Agency men for help in code-cracking techniques.

This appears probable on the basis of the work done by Bernard Mitchell and William H. Martin at the top-secret headquarters of NSA in Ft. Meade, Md.

Two congressional groups are going to look into the defection of the code clerks. A special armed services subcommittee investigating the activities of intelligence agencies will open hearings next Thursday. Witnesses will include Maurice H. Klein, NSA's director of personnel, and Gen. C. P. Gurnea, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities plans another hearing next Friday.

The question of the defectors came up Friday night when former President Harry S. Truman talked with newsmen on his arrival in New York. Truman said "I think they're a couple of traitors and if we had them back here they ought to be shot. These birds didn't know anything about the security of the country."

There appears to be no belief that Mitchell and Martin took to the Soviets any vital policy or military plans.

The Defense Department said earlier this week that "they had no access to classified information about American weapons or defense plans." And the Pentagon statement also sought to dismiss this point with the comment that "The two men were both junior mathematicians employed in limited areas of communications statistical work."

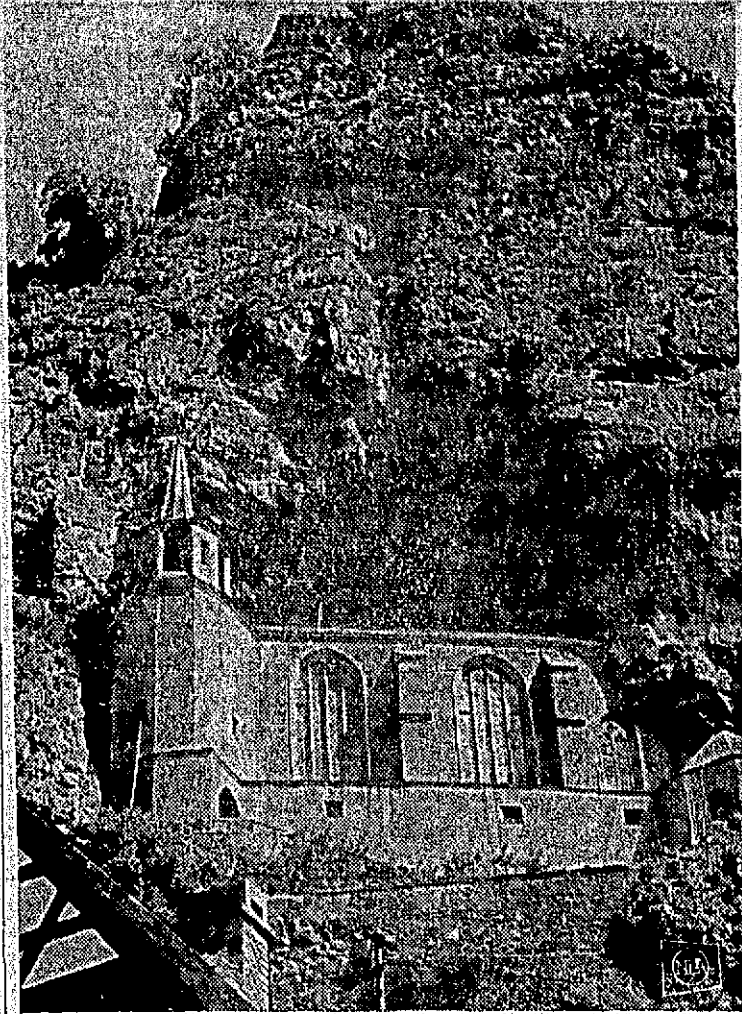

However, a study of the qualifications needed by mathematicians of their grade is interesting.

They must have mastered "advanced statistical analysis requiring a thorough appraisal of sources of data; skill, judgment and resourcefulness in the selection and use of statistical methods; and possess 'a marked ability in the preparation of statistical reports embodying the interpretation and analysis of calculated statistical measures.'"

For these purposes, they must use electronic computers. Such computers are at the heart of current methods for deciphering and decoding intercepted cryptographic messages. The major function of NSA is to tune in on the cryptographic messages transmitted by Communist radio stations.

The precise procedure used by NSA in setting up computers for code cracking, together with the methods of interpreting the computer's answers, must be of important value to the Soviets.

Perfection of computers has come since World War II. Until then code cracking was laborious, too often fruitless. But the electronic "brain" can do it in seconds.

CHURCH IN GROTTTO—Picturesque church in Idar-Oberstein, Germany, is built flush against the walls of a hollow in a cliff overlooking the town. It was built in the Middle Ages by a nobleman seeking to atone for murdering his brother.

U. S. Envoy, Mr. K Talk About Fliers

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson talked with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today about two U. S. fliers held prisoner by the Soviet Union since their RB47 plane was shot down more than two months ago.

The Soviet leader was preparing to depart by ship for a session of the U. N. General Assembly in New York.

"We discussed matters of interest to both governments," Thompson told reporters after his 10-minute talk with Khrushchev, "including the detention of two RB47 fliers."

President Eisenhower said in Washington Wednesday that one prerequisite for any meeting he might have with the Soviet premier would be release of the two airmen, held prisoner since their plane was shot down July 1.

Khrushchev, for his part, made it clear that he still thinks President Eisenhower should apologize for the U2 flight of May 1.

Thompson declined to go into details about today's talk but reporters gained the impression that he made little progress in the newest effort to free Lt. Freeman Olmstead of Elmira, N. Y., and Lt. John McKeone of Tongass, Kan. The Soviets have announced they will be tried for espionage.

The Soviet premier is going to New York aboard the 7,494-ton ship Balika—called the Vyacheslav Molotov before Molotov fell into disfavor several years ago. Leaders of Soviet-linked countries in Eastern Europe may join Khrushchev for a Communist summit meeting aboard the ship in New York. All of them also are going to the Assembly.

Khrushchev may get away Friday.

Two Charged for Counterfeiting

PORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Two Missouri men were charged today with possessing counterfeit money and counterfeiting equipment.

Charged on the police docket were Cecil Aubrey Hughes, 41, of Springfield, Mo., and Larime Cecil Hughes, 25, of Springfield. A Secret Service agent from Little Rock was on his way to question them.

Police said the men had about $1,000 in counterfeit $20 and $5 bills and printing equipment in their car when officers stopped it here last night.

Officers declined to say how they got on the trail of the men. They were uncertain whether any counterfeit money had been passed in the Port Smith area.

The men were held without bond in county jail.

Didn't Know Sold Stock, Grocer Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Little Rock grocery chain official testified yesterday at a bankruptcy hearing that he did not realize he had bought and sold 2,000 shares of stock in the defunct Arkansas Business Development Corp. last year while selling his house and buying another.

Melvin H. Schulenberg said on the stand he was astonished to see his signature on a stock certificate and check produced by attorney D. D. Panich, attorney for the ABCDC.

Schulenberg said he sold his house through a Little Rock realty company and Alan C. Springer, former ABCDC president, bought it. He testified he had signed various papers during the transaction but hadn't examined them closely.

Panich told the court Schulenberg was "absolutely innocent" in the exchange. Panich told Lee Cuzort, federal referee in bankruptcy, that the outcome of the deal was that the ABCDC paid Schulenberg $2,000 for the 2,000 shares it had once given Springer.

"This is a fair example of how money has been taken out of the ill at a loss to stockholders and trust funds," Panich said.

Money Allotted for Hospitals

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Health Department has received formal notice that the federal government has allocated $3,431,214 to Arkansas for hospital construction.

Dr. J. T. Herron, state health officer, said the department now can begin considering applications for grants under the Hill-Burton Act.

Herron said the allocated funds included $2,836,000 for hospitals, $113,000 for diagnostic treatment centers, $113,000 for chronic disease hospitals, $104,000 for nursing homes and $184,000 for rehabilitation facilities.

El Dorado TV Sale Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans Broadcasting Co., which operates stations WNET-AM-TV in Rochester, N. Y., has been authorized by the Federal Communications Commission to acquire a controlling interest in Television Station KTYE at El Dorado, Ark., through the purchase of an additional 31.7 per cent for $217,000.

Veterans already owned 18.9 per cent of KTYE.

William H. Simons, whose late wife was the former Fricki Hen, a one-time member of the search into the problem. The Senate passed the bill but the House didn't act on it.

Nixon Will Resume His Drive Monday

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is back home today after 11 days in a hospital for treatment of a knee infection. On Monday he'll start making up for lost time on the presidential campaign trail.

Helping him get on a 14-stop speaking tour off to a good start will be President Eisenhower and other top Republicans. They'll breakfast with Nixon Monday at Baltimore's Friendship Airport before he takes off.

Nixon plans a quiet weekend with his family in Washington but Sunday night he will appear on NBC's "Meet the Press" television show. He also will tape a CBS "Political Countdown" program for showing Monday night.

The vice president bumped his knee on a car door at Greensboro, N.C., Aug. 17. The bruise became infected and he wound up in Walter Reed Hospital. He was sent home Friday night.

Nixon aides said he may walk with a slight limp for a time and this may crimp his style of getting down among crowds and mixing with people.

The hospital stay put something of a damper on Nixon's presidential campaign, although he tried to offset this with various policy announcements and a detailed discussion of his views on the need for more scientific research.

Nixon's rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, has been stumping vigorously from Alaska to Detroit and back to California, but maintained a policy of avoiding direct attacks on the vice president while he was ill.

Now that Nixon is up and about he can expect some direct knocks from Kennedy.

Nixon's tour will start with a jet flight to Indianapolis, Dallas and San Francisco. He'll return to Washington Sept. 17 after stops in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, North Dakota, Illinois, Missouri, New Jersey, Virginia, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota.

A major address on farm surpluses is set at Guthrie Center, Iowa, Sept. 16.

Police said the men had about $1,000 in counterfeit $20 and $5 bills and printing equipment in their car when officers stopped it here last night.

Officers declined to say how they got on the trail of the men. They were uncertain whether any counterfeit money had been passed in the Port Smith area.

The men were held without bond in county jail.

Police said the men had about $1,000 in counterfeit $20 and $5 bills and printing equipment in their car when officers stopped it here last night.

Officers declined to say how they got on the trail of the men. They were uncertain whether any counterfeit money had been passed in the Port Smith area.

The men were held without bond in county jail.

No End to Rail Strike Is Seen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Michael Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, said today that despite a federal mediator's optimism that settlement of the Pennsylvania Railroad strike was around the corner, "We don't see it that way at all," he said.

Quill told a news conference there is no settlement in sight. That the dispute is "going back and forth."

He asserted the railroad's latest proposals for ending the nine-day old strike of the nation's largest railroad were "the same as made three years ago just warmed over."

Optimism had mounted earlier today for a settlement of the strike of TWU and System Federation against the carrier. Francis O'Neill, chairman of the National Mediation Board, had called a joint meeting of union and management negotiators for 10 a. m. today after indicating both sides were closer to an agreement than ever.

The negotiating session, however, was postponed by the union, which told O'Neill it wanted to study more closely the railroad's latest proposal. Then Quill called a news conference.

"We want to notify the public and our members there is no settlement. The dispute is going back and forth. The railroad proposals were the same as made three years ago just warmed over," Quill said.

"There will be no change in our 'rock-bottom' proposals, absolutely none. The railroad is trying to break the strike, lay off men at every chance. We're striking to protect the vanishing railroad worker."

Asked if the 20,000 striking employees of the two unions would return to work on a request of President Eisenhower, Quill replied, "The answer is no. That would break the strike."

O'Neill had called the session after talking with union officers Thursday night.

Seeks Funds for Fish Reservoirs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., wants at least $50,000 included in the federal budget for next year for research into why fishing reservoirs aren't good as it used to be.

In asking Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton to seek the budget setting of the money, Fulbright said:

"If the (Interior) Department is to fulfill its responsibility to the public, funds must be requested in this budget to initiate research."

Fulbright said that after reservoirs are built fishing usually is good for several years. Then there is a decline.

Fulbright introduced a bill in Congress last year to authorize the department to conduct research into the problem. The Senate passed the bill but the House didn't act on it.

Dog Saves Woman But Loses Life

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A stray dog saved an unsuspecting woman from a rattlesnake's bite but lost its own life.

The dog died seconds after it was bitten when it jumped between the rattler and Mrs. J. D. McDowell, who had just stepped from her car in the driveway at her home.

Mrs. McDowell was uninjured. The snake was killed by a neighbor.

Signs Bill for Foreign Aid Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed bills providing an extra $65 million in foreign aid funds and calling for a special aid program for Latin America.

Eisenhower had asked Congress to restore the bill, $559,354,000, to the foreign aid program before enacting it. But Congress never came near that figure.

The additional money pushes the final, compromise appropriation for the foreign aid program to $3,787,350,000.

The extra $65 million is tagged for defense support.

The Latin American aid bill authorizes in principle a $600-million special program.

While the bill provides no actual funds, it expresses congressional willingness to consider appropriations up to half a billion dollars for projects of social and economic development, and $100 million for reconstruction of earthquake devastated Chile.

There's that word again. The one we started out with in this article. As you probably know, our Presidents have at times authorized and recommended different varieties of U. S. coins. Some 28 different designs for commemorative 50c coins were released under Franklin D. Roosevelt's tenure of office, but Truman authorized only three. The Booker T. Washington, the Iowa Centennial and the Washington Carver. Eisenhower has not signed legislation for any new coin designs.

It is noted that Theodore Roosevelt took a deep personal interest in our coinage, the first President to do so since Washington. He wanted our coins to have the classic beauty of the ancient Greeks, so he consulted a famous sculptor to design new $20 and $30 gold pieces, instead of the regularly employed designers at the Philadelphia Mint. It must be brought out, however, that he didn't allow the In God We Trust motto on the coins as he considered the name of God on a coin as blasphemous.

Who are some of the local coin collectors, who can recognize the slightest imperfection in a coin with the aid of a magnifying glass? Three of the ladies in the group are Mrs. Fred Russell, Mrs. Cecil Bille and Mrs. Robert O'Neil. George Frazier, the Rev. Rufus Sorrells, and Martin Fox Jr. are equally interested, as are both Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Ambrose. John and Edsel Nix have studied coins since they were quite small, and some of the younger enthusiasts in Hope today are Ralph Byers, Paul Guerin and Remond Nunn.

Have you given the change in your pocket or purse a careful scrutiny lately, or are you able to keep it that long?

Bookmobile Schedule Next Week

Bookmobile schedule for next week:

September 13 — 9, Laneburg Schools; 1, Mann's Gro.; 2, Rosston's School.

September 14 — 8:30, Fry's Home; 9:15, McNab; 10:45, Guernsey's School; 2, Whitney's Gro.; 2:30, Youngblood's Cafe.

September 15 — 8:15, Radio Station; 9, DeAnn; 10:30, McCaskill; 11:05, Young's Home; 11:30, McClenden's Home; 12:15, Rhodes' Home; 2, Hick Lee's Gro.; 2:25, Harris' Gro.; 3, Head's Home; 4, Cumming's Home.

L. L. Lecount, 69, of Rosston, Dies Thursday

Leonard Levi Lecount, aged 69, retired oil field worker of Rosston died Thursday in a Little Rock hospital. He was a member of the Christian Church and the Hope VFW post.

Survivors include his wife, three stepchildren, Walter Lee Hedding of Willisville, Leo of Norwalk, Calif., Charles Hedding of Bellflower, Calif., four brothers, Ben Lecount of Rosston, Charles of Seely, Calif., Chester of Sturgeon, Mo., and Marian of Mexico, Mo.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at Oakcrest Funeral Service Chapel by the Rev. Clifton Bell. Burial will be at Mt. Olive near Waterloo.

Department Store Sales Dip Some

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Department store sales in the 8th Federal Reserve District last week were about two per cent lower than the corresponding period of last year, with only Memphis reporting an increase.

The apparent decline were recorded in Louisville and Little Rock where sales fell off five per cent from the 1959 level. Memphis sales rose three per cent.

Sales during the four weeks ended Sept. 3 equaled the sales volume of the comparable four-week period last year and cumulative sales for the Jan. 1 through Sept. 3 period were identical with 1959 levels.

Young Girl Is Fatally Injured

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A 4-year-old girl injured by a falling tree limb at her family's summer home in Pocahontas, Ark., July 15 died in a hospital here Wednesday.

She was Anette Emmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Emmons of Memphis.

Funeral services are planned here Thursday.

Readers' Court Numismatics, Is One of the Oldest Hobbies in the World—That of Collecting Coins

By MARY ANITA LASETER

This is something found throughout the world. Quite a bit of it is in the United States, and even some right here in Hope. And what are we talking about? Numismatics.

Now before you panic, this isn't a disease (in the strictest sense of the word). Rather, it is the hobby of coin collecting, one of the world's oldest hobbies.

While numismatics dates back several centuries, coin collecting in America didn't develop to any extent until about 1840. During the past few years there has been a remarkable new interest in coin collecting. (This is not due to the higher cost of living, for the coins in question are just for collection.)

America's two mints, one in Denver and the other in Philadelphia, and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing are busily turning out millions of dollars in coins and paper money month after month. For many years these coins have held the motto "In God We Trust," but, alas, the currency has not. That is, until Matthew H. Roberts of Camden originated the idea of including "In God We Trust" on our folding money, which has such a wide circulation throughout the world. Though a bill to adopt the idea was approved by President Eisenhower in the summer of 1956, it was 1957 before the actual printing was begun. And that was thanks to a prominent Camden, Ark., furniture manufacturer, who is 2nd vice president of the American Numismatic Association.

There's that word again. The one we started out with in this article. As you probably know, our Presidents have at times authorized and recommended different varieties of U. S. coins. Some 28 different designs for commemorative 50c coins were released under Franklin D. Roosevelt's tenure of office, but Truman authorized only three. The Booker T. Washington, the Iowa Centennial and the Washington Carver. Eisenhower has not signed legislation for any new coin designs.

It is noted that Theodore Roosevelt took a deep personal interest in our coinage, the first President to do so since Washington. He wanted our coins to have the classic beauty of the ancient Greeks, so he consulted a famous sculptor to design new $20 and $30 gold pieces, instead of the regularly employed designers at the Philadelphia Mint. It must be brought out, however, that he didn't allow the In God We Trust motto on the coins as he considered the name of God on a coin as blasphemous.

Who are some of the local coin collectors, who can recognize the slightest imperfection in a coin with the aid of a magnifying glass? Three of the ladies in the group are Mrs. Fred Russell, Mrs. Cecil Bille and Mrs. Robert O'Neil. George Frazier, the Rev. Rufus Sorrells, and Martin Fox Jr. are equally interested, as are both Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Ambrose. John and Edsel Nix have studied coins since they were quite small, and some of the younger enthusiasts in Hope today are Ralph Byers, Paul Guerin and Remond Nunn.

Have you given the change in your pocket or purse a careful scrutiny lately, or are you able to keep it that long?

Appointment of McShane to Be Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has declined to block the appointment of Terence F. McShane, a one-time FBI agent, as chief monitor of the Teamsters Union.

The court's action Wednesday was a setback for James R. Hoffa, president of the big union of truck drivers. Hoffa has fought the monitors since they were named to supervise his union nearly three years ago.

The appeals court in effect ruled that it should not act now until such time as McShane might actually be appointed chairman of the three-man monitor board. Hoffa was left free to challenge him again then.

The court asked the U. S. District Court to consider now material that had been presented at an appeals court hearing.

The new material was not specified. It could include affidavits by two New York truck drivers filed with the appeals court Wednesday. The two said that Robert F. Kennedy cursed them and browbeat them in an effort to get their support for McShane.

Kennedy, brother of Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy, made no immediate reply to the affidavits. Robert Kennedy was chief counsel for the Senate rackets committee at the time it was investigating corruption charges against some teamster leaders.

Judge Welcomes Investigation

FOREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—County Judge M. D. Clark says he would welcome any unbiased investigation of St. Francis County spending.

Clark said any true audit would show that criticism of county administration is "purely false" and political.

A citizens group of 96 businessmen and farmers met Tuesday and charged that the county is in poor financial shape even though a reappraisal last year increased tax income.

Clark said Thursday the county is operating under the same tax rate as in 1954 but has had to contend with rising costs plus providing many new services.

"I have not intentionally violated any law and I have not misappropriated one cent of county money," he said.

Flying Schools

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—U. S. and French air bases evacuated by agreement with the Moroccan government will be turned into flying schools to train African and Asian pilots, the Moroccan Information Ministry announced today.

Dag Defends Seizure By U.N. Forces

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld defended before the U. N. Security Council early today the seizure of Congo airports and Leopoldville Radio by U. N. forces.

Under fire from the Communists, he put the issue squarely up to the 11-nation council for "its consideration and instruction."

After a session that lasted into the early hours, the council adjourned until late today to debate motions of the U. N. peace force trying to keep order in the troubled African nation.

Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba has called on the 16,000 U. N. troops to get out of the Congo unless they give back the airports and radio station.

Hammarskjöld, and Yugoslav delegate Dobrica Vidic, clashed over the wisdom of letting the U. N. control the installations.

Before they spoke, the council turned down a Soviet proposal that it accept an invitation from Lumumba to hold an immediate special meeting in Leopoldville to study the Congo situation first hand.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov said the Soviet Union would fly the delegates there if they adopted his resolution. But delegates voted 10-6-3. Only Poland and Ceylon joined the Soviet Union in voting for it. Ecuador and Tunisia abstained.

Hammarskjöld told the council U. N. representatives in the Congo acted wisely in seizing control of the radio station and the airports Monday night when President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Lumumba tried to fire each other.

The secretary general said they instituted the emergency measures without consulting either him or any Congo authorities—but he endorsed what they had done and took full responsibility for it.

His action, he said, prevented the people from being "worked up by a radio war" between Kasavubu and Lumumba and retained the airports for use of the U. N. force in its job of keeping order and protecting lives.

Group Tries to Hold South Democratic

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The top echelon of the Democratic Party's drive to keep the South in the Democratic column in the presidential election met here today to talk about how to do it.

S. G. Smathers, of Florida, head of the campaign for 33 Southern states, presided. The meeting went into closed session soon after it began.

States participating are Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas.

Among the other Democratic big-wigs in attendance were Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana, Alabama Gov. John Patterson, and Rep. Hale Boggs of New Orleans.

Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi wired his regrets. He said he would enter the campaign later.

E. S. Stephens of Port Smith, Ark., represented Gov. Orval Faubus, who was busy at Little Rock attending a state Democratic meeting.

Gov. Jimmie Davis of Louisiana was absent and had no representative on hand.

Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi also was absent and unrepresented. In fact, Barnett spoke Thursday night in Baton Rouge, urging a third party to oppose both Democrats and Republicans.

Smathers said while religion was a big issue in the South right now, he believed in a week or two more of the campaign, it will be buried as an issue.

He said he felt confident the South would stay Democratic.

New Polio Surge Over Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—New polio cases surged last week to a 1960 weekly high of 217, including 118 paralytic cases.

Reporting this today, the Public Health Service said these figures compared with 149 cases, including 88 paralytic, in the preceding week.

The previous 1960 weekly high was 155 cases, including 98 paralytic, in the week ended Aug. 20. However, the total still was far below those of last year. In the week ended Sept. 5, 1959, there were 523 cases, including 297 paralytic.

From Jan. 1 through Sept. 3, this year there were 1,601 polio cases, including 1,077 paralytic. Last year in the comparative 35 weeks there were 4,411 cases, including 2,824 paralytic. The comparative totals in 1958 were 2,505 and 1,206 and in 1957 there were 4,091 and 1,283.

Man Perishes in Trailer Fire

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—Edward K. Givens, 44, of Memphis, a salesman, died last night in a fire that swept his trailer home near here.

Origin of the fire was not determined.

The trailer was parked at a fishing camp on nearby Dacus Lake.

Weather

Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers tonight, mainly F.C., will retain the remaining in the south portion Saturday night.

SOCIETY

Phone 7-9431 Between 8 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Calendar

Saturday, September 10

A Pet Luck Supper and Card Night will be held Saturday night at 8:30 at the Country Club. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Brock Schenck, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bakley. If you cannot attend for supper, a TV set will be at the party for benefit of those who want to watch the Miss America Pageant.

Monday, September 13

Circle No. 5 W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church will meet Monday, September 13 at 7:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Edward Aslin.

A Union meeting of all circles of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church will be held at the church Monday morning, September 12 at 9:30.

Tuesday, September 13

The Hope Division of Arkansas Licensed Practical Nurses will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, September 13 in the Community Room of the First National Bank. Guest speaker will be Talbot Field, Jr.

Circle No. 6 W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church will meet Monday, September 13 in the home of Mrs. Jack Gardner. Mrs. R. L. Branch was in charge of the program and she presented Mrs. Brock Schenck and Mrs. Steve Bader who gave an interesting talk on "Missionary". Mrs. Jack Gardner gave a most interesting and informative report on the Four Studies that are to be held in the near future. Mrs. Marion Robertson was welcomed as a new member.

Delicious refreshments were served to 11 present.

Wednesday, Sept. 14

The Executive Committee of the Brookwood PPTA will meet Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the school auditorium followed by regular PPTA meeting at 3.

Wesleyan Service Guild, First Methodist Church meets Monday, Sept. 12 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. B. C. Hyatt with Mrs. Glencie Porter as co-hostess.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Carroll of Garland, Tex. were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Ellis.

Cool... Comfortable

Saenger

LAST SHOWING TODAY

MASTERS OF DECEIT

Warrior and the Slave Girl

KING OF THE CONGO

LATE SHOW

Tonite 11:00 p. m.

13 Ghosts

STARTS SUNDAY

From pagan idolatry to the worship of one God...

THE STORY OF RUTH

NEWS & CARTOON

The Carrolls left Monday for N.C.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Ellis were Miss Patsy Ellis of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rollwell of Garland, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. James Ellis were Sunday visitors.

Hi-Notes From Hope High School

By Tena Pilkinton

The halls of Hope High School are once again buzzing with activity. Everywhere you go, you can hear hollers from fellow classmates you haven't seen since school was out.

There are now teachers, new students, new books, and in general an air of excitement all over. Part of the excitement is due to the newness of things, football and being in a new grade. Freshmen are always being bewildered by the goings on.

Part of the back to school program has been several events which are worth the mentioning. These events were sponsored by the Student Council which is a very active organization in HHS.

On the first 2 days of school, Sept. 1 and 2, a Hello Day was held. Students in all the grades wore a tag which had their name clearly printed on them.

This was for the benefit of the incoming Freshmen. It helped them to know some of the names of the upperclassmen and not to feel so strange in a different school. Hello Day was held on both Thursday and Friday. Also on Friday, a Getting To Know You party was held for the teachers. It took place in the teacher's lounge directly following the registration to the 11th and 12th grades. It was honoring the new teachers who have come to our school.

Greeting the teachers was Jimmy Lloyd, president of the Student Council. He had delivered a welcoming address to all the students during registration. Several other Student Council members who helped with the party were:

Jimmy Lloyd, president; Tena Pilkinton, secretary; Barbara Caston, treasurer; Penny Franks, 11th grade representative; Jane Grigg, 10th grade representative.

These events are part of a plan which has in mind the purpose of getting freshmen and new students acquainted with Hope High School.

Getting ready for school has taken many people all summer. There have been students of HHS who have attended Band Camp, Student Council Workshop, Future Teacher Workshops, just to name a few. With the training received in these and various other workshops and camps, it will be possible for the leaders in school activities to lead clubs and organizations to a successful school year.

It seems to everyone in Hope High School that the school year of 1960-61 is off to a rocking good start.

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

She was gray and rigid. "Off there!"

Brett's sweat-stung eyes whipped to where she was pointing. The whole world felt like it was dropping from under him. Topping out across a ridge not half a mile away was a file of mounted men, Tice at the front of them — and back of Brett somewhere was Flagler and Currycomb.

The west and north were closed up solid. East was the wasted land, beyond Trone's, the commonwealth of small spreads, none of whom would lift a hand for a Pasken. South was the town, maybe 30 miles away. Together they were whipped, but the girl, if he could pull off the riders, might make it.

Tice had seen them and was coming up fast, now showing, now lost in the broken ground between. Though, nearly noon it was dark as eight — darker, really — and there was a lot of dust. "I'll catch you later — make for town!" Brett yelled, and brought his reins down across Lola's horse.

The gray bolted, beyond her power to control or turn, and Brett put spurs to the blowing roan, whirling him back into the draw they'd come out of, crowding him north in the direction of Currycomb. Tice, at least didn't want the girl; he was champing to fetch Brett into his sights and, for right now, had mind for nothing else.

Brett was still mulling around an idea he'd got during breakfast, his reason for bringing this canteen along. If he could just elude Tice long enough to break through — if he could keep them from driving him into Flagler's guns, . . .

That was asking a lot but there was a bend back here somewhere. He kept pushing his roan, trying to gain cover before Tice could knock him out of the saddle. That Hobbled O bunch was sure riding their stirrups; he could hear the faint creak-stopper popping of their rifles.

Now they were pounding into the draw, its slopes magnifying their racket. Slugs began kicking up spurts of sand. The roan humped under Brett, pulling his rump in, squealing and breaking pace. The horse was hit but Brett kept him running, cursing bitterly. He could see the bend through the tatters of dust flung ahead by the wind.

Queer what pictures the mind dredged up. Brett thought of the mistakes he'd come back here to right. The meek might inherit the Good Book said, but not around here. You didn't stop a Bill Tice by turning the other cheek.

Brett knew without even looking back how little time he had. They'd kept right on coming till they ran him into the ground or dropped him with a lucky shot. They had all the advantage of fresher horses, thorough knowledge of the country and the weight of numbers. But the roan was running steadily again, body stretched, legs flogging. There was just a bare chance. . . . All depended, Brett thought, on whether or not Currycomb had got out of the hackberries — this was blowing the racket right at them.

And here was the bend. Brett went into the turn, hauling the

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

She was gray and rigid. "Off there!"

Brett's sweat-stung eyes whipped to where she was pointing. The whole world felt like it was dropping from under him. Topping out across a ridge not half a mile away was a file of mounted men, Tice at the front of them — and back of Brett somewhere was Flagler and Currycomb.

THE WOLF THAT RODE

By Nelson Nye

CHAPTER XXIX

Brett was white with outrage, shaking with fury, when the brush got thick enough to stop slugs behind them, walling them off from that murderous barrage. "Keep going!" he growled when it seemed like Lola might be minded to do otherwise.

They'd be saddling back there. Flagler couldn't quit now. Every moment Lola remained in his company was shortening her chances by just that much. They might kill her anyway if they got hold of her out here, but there was no room for doubt should they catch her with Brett.

He ran the horses 10 minutes, halting to, scared not to. When they came out of the brush in a vista of ridges he knew they would have to keep away from Trone's headquarters. It was also the first place Currycomb, if their trail were lost, would make for.

He hauled the roan to a walk. Both horses were blowing. He had no way of knowing how far back Flagler was.

The air was sticky like Yuma in August. "Sun's gone," Lola said.

He was soaked with sweat, the horses' coats were dark with it. Looking up, Brett saw nothing but clouds so low they looked to be draping the hills, trapping the heat like the spread of a blanket, forlorn as old wool past the shearing. Brett's mind could find no escape.

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

She was gray and rigid. "Off there!"

Brett's sweat-stung eyes whipped to where she was pointing. The whole world felt like it was dropping from under him. Topping out across a ridge not half a mile away was a file of mounted men, Tice at the front of them — and back of Brett somewhere was Flagler and Currycomb.

The west and north were closed up solid. East was the wasted land, beyond Trone's, the commonwealth of small spreads, none of whom would lift a hand for a Pasken. South was the town, maybe 30 miles away. Together they were whipped, but the girl, if he could pull off the riders, might make it.

Tice had seen them and was coming up fast, now showing, now lost in the broken ground between. Though, nearly noon it was dark as eight — darker, really — and there was a lot of dust. "I'll catch you later — make for town!" Brett yelled, and brought his reins down across Lola's horse.

The gray bolted, beyond her power to control or turn, and Brett put spurs to the blowing roan, whirling him back into the draw they'd come out of, crowding him north in the direction of Currycomb. Tice, at least didn't want the girl; he was champing to fetch Brett into his sights and, for right now, had mind for nothing else.

Brett was still mulling around an idea he'd got during breakfast, his reason for bringing this canteen along. If he could just elude Tice long enough to break through — if he could keep them from driving him into Flagler's guns, . . .

That was asking a lot but there was a bend back here somewhere. He kept pushing his roan, trying to gain cover before Tice could knock him out of the saddle. That Hobbled O bunch was sure riding their stirrups; he could hear the faint creak-stopper popping of their rifles.

Now they were pounding into the draw, its slopes magnifying their racket. Slugs began kicking up spurts of sand. The roan humped under Brett, pulling his rump in, squealing and breaking pace. The horse was hit but Brett kept him running, cursing bitterly. He could see the bend through the tatters of dust flung ahead by the wind.

Queer what pictures the mind dredged up. Brett thought of the mistakes he'd come back here to right. The meek might inherit the Good Book said, but not around here. You didn't stop a Bill Tice by turning the other cheek.

Brett knew without even looking back how little time he had. They'd kept right on coming till they ran him into the ground or dropped him with a lucky shot. They had all the advantage of fresher horses, thorough knowledge of the country and the weight of numbers. But the roan was running steadily again, body stretched, legs flogging. There was just a bare chance. . . . All depended, Brett thought, on whether or not Currycomb had got out of the hackberries — this was blowing the racket right at them.

And here was the bend. Brett went into the turn, hauling the

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

She was gray and rigid. "Off there!"

Brett's sweat-stung eyes whipped to where she was pointing. The whole world felt like it was dropping from under him. Topping out across a ridge not half a mile away was a file of mounted men, Tice at the front of them — and back of Brett somewhere was Flagler and Currycomb.

The west and north were closed up solid. East was the wasted land, beyond Trone's, the commonwealth of small spreads, none of whom would lift a hand for a Pasken. South was the town, maybe 30 miles away. Together they were whipped, but the girl, if he could pull off the riders, might make it.

Tice had seen them and was coming up fast, now showing, now lost in the broken ground between. Though, nearly noon it was dark as eight — darker, really — and there was a lot of dust. "I'll catch you later — make for town!" Brett yelled, and brought his reins down across Lola's horse.

The gray bolted, beyond her power to control or turn, and Brett put spurs to the blowing roan, whirling him back into the draw they'd come out of, crowding him north in the direction of Currycomb. Tice, at least didn't want the girl; he was champing to fetch Brett into his sights and, for right now, had mind for nothing else.

Brett was still mulling around an idea he'd got during breakfast, his reason for bringing this canteen along. If he could just elude Tice long enough to break through — if he could keep them from driving him into Flagler's guns, . . .

That was asking a lot but there was a bend back here somewhere. He kept pushing his roan, trying to gain cover before Tice could knock him out of the saddle. That Hobbled O bunch was sure riding their stirrups; he could hear the faint creak-stopper popping of their rifles.

Now they were pounding into the draw, its slopes magnifying their racket. Slugs began kicking up spurts of sand. The roan humped under Brett, pulling his rump in, squealing and breaking pace. The horse was hit but Brett kept him running, cursing bitterly. He could see the bend through the tatters of dust flung ahead by the wind.

Queer what pictures the mind dredged up. Brett thought of the mistakes he'd come back here to right. The meek might inherit the Good Book said, but not around here. You didn't stop a Bill Tice by turning the other cheek.

Brett knew without even looking back how little time he had. They'd kept right on coming till they ran him into the ground or dropped him with a lucky shot. They had all the advantage of fresher horses, thorough knowledge of the country and the weight of numbers. But the roan was running steadily again, body stretched, legs flogging. There was just a bare chance. . . . All depended, Brett thought, on whether or not Currycomb had got out of the hackberries — this was blowing the racket right at them.

And here was the bend. Brett went into the turn, hauling the

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

THE WOLF THAT RODE

By Nelson Nye

CHAPTER XXX

Tice and his men hadn't yet rounded the bend, though they were almost close as he came out on flat ground. As he dragged the horse up out of the brush he saw the bloody streak of scuffed up hide where the Hobbled O slug had creased the animal's hip. Brett was as short on breath as the horse; he stood there, breathless.

"There! Ain't that Flagler's bunch?" Tice called.

Brett didn't wait to hear any more. With thumping heart, he eased away from the rim, drawing Roanoke after him. What sound they made was whipped away by the wind, by the surprise and spattering onslaught of the first fat drops of rain.

Brett twisted a narrowing glance overhead, baring his face to it, feeling it pelting him, seeing the dark boil of black sky above. If that wasn't the way of things! Drive these poor ranchers right onto their knees then soak the country to push up grass. Jo didn't need and couldn't use without she grabbed up their cattle along with everything else.

He got back in the saddle, knowing he dared not delay any longer. The rain — if it didn't plumb quit on him — would probably wash out his tracks if he could gain enough ground. He'd have to pile up a lead and this was all open country for the next couple miles if he went the way he'd figured to go. No other direction was open to him. It had to be west — southwest. Somewhere off there, out of sight, was Hobbled O.

They were bound to see him. No getting around it. He had left plain sign gouging into that bank, and some of them were swarming up it right now, snap of brush and sliding shale reaching him even through the wild gust of wind.

Syd Stoker, after he got back to town, spent an even worse night than Brett had, going over and over what he'd said and done — bothered even more by the things he might have done and hadn't.

He heard the first rooster crow and came jarringly out of his lumpy bunk, pulling on his boots, peering at his reflection in the piece of cracked mirror.

There'd been a time when this country had looked up to him. Maybe it wasn't too late yet. Stoker got his razor and scowlingly stropped it.

He went back into the office, rummaged in his desk and got a short-barreled pistol, dropping it into his pocket. Then he walked back over to the livery. He waited around while his horse finished the hay, got him a drink in a bucket and put the saddle on him. He was cinching up when the hostler looked in at him. "Goin' someplace?"

"I'd go fishin'," Stoker said, "if I knew where there was any."

He got aboard and rode out and stepped down in front of the office. He stepped inside and reappeared carrying a rifle chambered for the .45-120-550 — a he-man deal in anybody's language. He got into the saddle still holding this formidable weapon and was about to kneel his commands to the horse when the boy who swarmed for the Coffin Bar put his head out the door, eyes big as pullet eggs.

"Gosh, Mister Stoker! You're loaded for bear ain'tcha?"

Stoker looked a little sheepish. "You goint' after them high-binders out to Hobbled O?"

Stoker fiddled with his reins. "Just figurin' to sight this gun in is all, Bob. How're your folks makin' it?"

"Aw, we're still eatin'." The boy said. "You're not scared of nothin' are you? Gee, he said, squirming, scuffling bare feet, 'you couldn't find no use fer a deputy could you?'"

Stoker couldn't think what to say hardly. He cleared his throat. "Tell you what," he growled finally, "I'll keep you in mind. I don't look for no trouble but if it turns out I'm wrong we'll see if we can't figure out somethin'."

Jo Fasken was unaccountably restless — even quietly uneasy wandering through the big house and knowing it was empty, understanding this day might well decide the outcome of all she'd set her hand to. The dark and

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

She was gray and rigid. "Off there!"

Brett's sweat-stung eyes whipped to where she was pointing. The whole world felt like it was dropping from under him. Topping out across a ridge not half a mile away was a file of mounted men, Tice at the front of them — and back of Brett somewhere was Flagler and Currycomb.

The west and north were closed up solid. East was the wasted land, beyond Trone's, the commonwealth of small spreads, none of whom would lift a hand for a Pasken. South was the town, maybe 30 miles away. Together they were whipped, but the girl, if he could pull off the riders, might make it.

Tice had seen them and was coming up fast, now showing, now lost in the broken ground between. Though, nearly noon it was dark as eight — darker, really — and there was a lot of dust. "I'll catch you later — make for town!" Brett yelled, and brought his reins down across Lola's horse.

The gray bolted, beyond her power to control or turn, and Brett put spurs to the blowing roan, whirling him back into the draw they'd come out of, crowding him north in the direction of Currycomb. Tice, at least didn't want the girl; he was champing to fetch Brett into his sights and, for right now, had mind for nothing else.

Brett was still mulling around an idea he'd got during breakfast, his reason for bringing this canteen along. If he could just elude Tice long enough to break through — if he could keep them from driving him into Flagler's guns, . . .

That was asking a lot but there was a bend back here somewhere. He kept pushing his roan, trying to gain cover before Tice could knock him out of the saddle. That Hobbled O bunch was sure riding their stirrups; he could hear the faint creak-stopper popping of their rifles.

Now they were pounding into the draw, its slopes magnifying their racket. Slugs began kicking up spurts of sand. The roan humped under Brett, pulling his rump in, squealing and breaking pace. The horse was hit but Brett kept him running, cursing bitterly. He could see the bend through the tatters of dust flung ahead by the wind.

Queer what pictures the mind dredged up. Brett thought of the mistakes he'd come back here to right. The meek might inherit the Good Book said, but not around here. You didn't stop a Bill Tice by turning the other cheek.

Brett knew without even looking back how little time he had. They'd kept right on coming till they ran him into the ground or dropped him with a lucky shot. They had all the advantage of fresher horses, thorough knowledge of the country and the weight of numbers. But the roan was running steadily again, body stretched, legs flogging. There was just a bare chance. . . . All depended, Brett thought, on whether or not Currycomb had got out of the hackberries — this was blowing the racket right at them.

And here was the bend. Brett went into the turn, hauling the

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

THE WOLF THAT RODE

By Nelson Nye

CHAPTER XXXI

Jo Fasken was unaccountably restless — even quietly uneasy wandering through the big house and knowing it was empty, understanding this day might well decide the outcome of all she'd set her hand to. The dark and

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

She was gray and rigid. "Off there!"

Brett's sweat-stung eyes whipped to where she was pointing. The whole world felt like it was dropping from under him. Topping out across a ridge not half a mile away was a file of mounted men, Tice at the front of them — and back of Brett somewhere was Flagler and Currycomb.

The west and north were closed up solid. East was the wasted land, beyond Trone's, the commonwealth of small spreads, none of whom would lift a hand for a Pasken. South was the town, maybe 30 miles away. Together they were whipped, but the girl, if he could pull off the riders, might make it.

Tice had seen them and was coming up fast, now showing, now lost in the broken ground between. Though, nearly noon it was dark as eight — darker, really — and there was a lot of dust. "I'll catch you later — make for town!" Brett yelled, and brought his reins down across Lola's horse.

The gray bolted, beyond her power to control or turn, and Brett put spurs to the blowing roan, whirling him back into the draw they'd come out of, crowding him north in the direction of Currycomb. Tice, at least didn't want the girl; he was champing to fetch Brett into his sights and, for right now, had mind for nothing else.

Brett was still mulling around an idea he'd got during breakfast, his reason for bringing this canteen along. If he could just elude Tice long enough to break through — if he could keep them from driving him into Flagler's guns, . . .

That was asking a lot but there was a bend back here somewhere. He kept pushing his roan, trying to gain cover before Tice could knock him out of the saddle. That Hobbled O bunch was sure riding their stirrups; he could hear the faint creak-stopper popping of their rifles.

Now they were pounding into the draw, its slopes magnifying their racket. Slugs began kicking up spurts of sand. The roan humped under Brett, pulling his rump in, squealing and breaking pace. The horse was hit but Brett kept him running, cursing bitterly. He could see the bend through the tatters of dust flung ahead by the wind.

Queer what pictures the mind dredged up. Brett thought of the mistakes he'd come back here to right. The meek might inherit the Good Book said, but not around here. You didn't stop a Bill Tice by turning the other cheek.

Brett knew without even looking back how little time he had. They'd kept right on coming till they ran him into the ground or dropped him with a lucky shot. They had all the advantage of fresher horses, thorough knowledge of the country and the weight of numbers. But the roan was running steadily again, body stretched, legs flogging. There was just a bare chance. . . . All depended, Brett thought, on whether or not Currycomb had got out of the hackberries — this was blowing the racket right at them.

And here was the bend. Brett went into the turn, hauling the

There was no safe place they could make for, no hole that they could find through which Lola might be pushed to safety without he took her to town; and he was considering this knowing what the marshal would do if he saw Brett, when the girl cried his name.

She was gray and rigid. "Off there!"

Brett's sweat-stung eyes whipped to where she was pointing. The whole world felt like it was dropping from under him. Topping out across a ridge not half a mile away was a file of mounted men, Tice at the front of them — and back of Brett somewhere was Flagler and Currycomb.

The west and north were closed up solid. East was the wasted land, beyond Trone's, the commonwealth of small spreads, none of whom would lift a hand for a Pasken. South was the town, maybe 30 miles away. Together they were whipped, but the girl, if he could pull off the riders, might make it.

Tice had seen them and was coming up fast, now showing, now lost in the broken ground between. Though, nearly noon it was dark as eight — darker, really — and there was a lot of dust. "I'll catch you later — make for town!" Brett yelled, and brought his reins down across Lola's horse.

The gray bolted, beyond her power to control or turn, and Brett put spurs to the blowing roan, whirling him back into the draw they'd come out of, crowding him north in the direction of Currycomb. Tice, at least didn't want the girl; he was champing to fetch Brett into his sights and, for right now, had mind for nothing else.

Brett was still mulling around an idea he'd got during breakfast, his reason for bringing this canteen along. If he could just elude Tice long enough to break through — if he could keep them from driving him into Flagler's guns, . . .

That was asking a lot but there was a bend back here somewhere. He kept pushing his roan, trying to gain cover before Tice could knock him out of the saddle. That Hobbled O bunch was sure riding their stirrups; he could hear the faint creak-stopper popping of their rifles.

Now they were pounding into the draw, its slopes magnifying their racket. Slugs began kicking up spurts of sand. The roan humped under Brett, pulling his rump in, squealing and breaking pace. The horse was hit but Brett kept him running, cursing bitterly. He could see the bend through the tatters of dust flung ahead by the wind.

Queer what pictures the mind dredged up

Weekly Radio & Television Schedule

KXAR

TWO/MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF THE KILLER DOG
By Doreen J. Saxon

"It's so cold in here, there's nothing how long the old man's been dead," said Haledjian, turning to look out the window upon the snow-covered slopes.

Three sets of footprints led to the cabin's door. From the south came the double tracks, newly made by himself and Sheriff Atkinson.

From the north were the tracks of a single visitor. They led up to the door and away from it.

All about were the paw prints of a huge dog.

"Those tracks to the north are Bull Carver's, I take it," said Haledjian.

"Correct," said the sheriff. "Bull brought his dog's supplies about once a week. He and his last trip here was six days ago, right after the big snow. He got inside the door, he says, when he thought he was alone. He saw the tracks of a single visitor. He saw the tracks of a single visitor. He saw the tracks of a single visitor."

"Bull won't have any reason to come back," muttered Haledjian, looking down at the half-naked body of the man.

"That dog is big enough, said Haledjian. 'But I doubt if a dog did the killing.'"

"WHAT AROUSED HALEDJIAN'S SUSPICION?"

"Didn't he ever go outside?" asked Haledjian.

"Not since last September—that's when he broke his legs," answered the sheriff.

Suddenly Haledjian saw a great, ugly dog following Bull Carver's tracks toward the cabin.

"He must have been changing his clothes when his dog went into and did that to his throat," mused the sheriff.

"Not since last September—that's when he broke his legs," answered the sheriff.

Suddenly Haledjian saw a great, ugly dog following Bull Carver's tracks toward the cabin. The animal moved with its nose to the snow for several hundred feet.

Idaho Town Forces Out Negroes

BUTLEY, Idaho (AP)—A Negro family of 10, objects of threats and abuse for more than six months, has abandoned its shanty town home in this southern Idaho farming town.

Potato plant worker, A.J. Thomas, 43, sent his wife and eight children away last Friday, a few hours after a burning oil flare was thrown onto the porch of their $35-a-month shack. He continued working until Tuesday, then followed them.

No one will say where they went except to say they are in New Mexico.

Thomas told police the flare was thrown from a car which circled the house several times while he and the family cowered in side. Police said that last February...

Sunday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 8:00 The Big Picture
- 8:00 America's News Reel
- 8:00 MGM Playhouse
- 8:45 Industry on Parade
- 9:00 MGM Playhouse
- 9:00 First Baptist Church
- 9:00 Baseball, New York at Cleveland
- 9:00 Baseball Scoreboard
- 9:00 Pro Football, Houston at Oakland
- 9:15 Sports
- 9:20 News
- 9:25 Weather
- 9:30 Dennis the Menace
- 9:30 Lassie
- 9:30 Adventures in Paradise
- 9:30 Lawman
- 9:30 The Rebel
- 9:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
- 9:30 Tightrope
- 9:30 Ed Sullivan Show
- 10:30 Jeannie Carson Show
- 11:00 MGM Playhouse

KSLA-Channel 12

- 8:00 Herald of Truth
- 8:30 The Christophers
- 9:00 Classroom 12
- 9:15 Hour of Worship
- 9:30 Classroom 12
- 10:30 "The Answer"
- 11:00 French Touch
- 12:00 Baseball, New York at Baltimore
- 3:00 Jungle
- 3:15 This Is the Life
- 3:45 Songs of Inspiration
- 4:00 Summer Olympics
- 4:30 Sherlock Holmes
- 5:00 Summer Olympics
- 5:30 20th Century
- 6:00 Lassie
- 6:30 Dennis the Menace
- 7:00 Ed Sullivan Show
- 8:00 Ronald Reagan Theater
- 8:30 Hitchcock Presents
- 9:00 Lucy in Connecticut
- 9:30 What's My Line
- 10:00 Boston Blackie
- 10:30 Final Edition News
- 10:40 Final Edition Weather
- 10:45 Summer Olympics
- 11:00 Night Owl Theater
- 12:00 Vespers

KTBS-Channel 3

- 7:30 Test Pattern
- 8:00 Oral Roberts
- 8:30 "The Living Way"
- 9:00 Morning Matinee
- 9:30 Morning Matinee
- 10:45 Highland Bapt. Church
- 11:45 Inside Sports
- 12:00 The News Today
- 12:15 On Deck Circle
- 12:25 Baseball, Los Angeles vs. Milwaukee
- 3:00 National Tennis Championships
- 4:30 Sports Feature
- 5:00 New Search for Talent
- 5:30 Ed Newman Reporting
- 6:00 Overland Trail
- 7:00 Maverick
- 8:00 Summer Mystery Show
- 9:00 Loretta Young Show
- 9:30 This Man Dawson
- 10:00 Cheyenne
- 11:00 The Big Movie
- 12:00 News Finals
- 12:05 Sign Off

Monday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee
- 10:00 As the World Turns
- 10:30 Way of Life
- 11:00 Edge of Night
- 11:30 Uncovered
- 12:00 Restless Gun
- 12:30 Farm Digest
- 12:45 News & Weather
- 1:00 About Face
- 1:30 Queen for a Day
- 2:00 Day in Court
- 2:30 Gale Storm
- 3:00 Beat the Clock
- 3:30 Who Do You Trust
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 4:45 John Daly News
- 5:30 Captain Gallant
- 6:00 News & Weather
- 6:15 John Daly News
- 6:30 Cheyenne
- 7:30 Richard Nixon
- 8:00 John Kennedy
- 8:30 Spike Jones
- 9:00 Comedy Showcase
- 9:30 June Allyson
- 10:00 To Tell the Truth
- 10:30 Weather & News
- 10:45 MGM Playhouse

KSLA-Channel 12

- 8:15 Test Pattern
- 8:45 Your Pastor
- 9:00 Jones Junction
- 9:00 CBS News
- 9:15 Captain Kangaroo
- 9:30 Republican Convention
- 10:30 December Bride
- 11:00 Love of Life
- 11:30 Search for Tomorrow
- 11:45 The Guiding Light
- 12:00 Channel 12 News
- 12:10 Weather Summary
- 12:15 Book Corner
- 12:30 As the World Turns
- 1:00 For Better or Worse
- 1:30 House Party
- 2:00 The Millionaire
- 2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
- 3:00 The Brighter Day
- 3:15 The Secret Storm

Tuesday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee
- 10:00 As the World Turns
- 10:30 Way of Life
- 11:00 Edge of Night
- 11:30 Uncovered
- 12:00 Restless Gun
- 12:30 Farm Digest
- 12:45 News & Weather
- 1:00 About Face
- 1:30 Queen for a Day
- 2:00 Day in Court
- 2:30 Gale Storm
- 3:00 Beat the Clock
- 3:30 Who Do You Trust
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 4:45 John Daly News
- 5:30 Captain Gallant
- 6:00 News & Weather
- 6:15 John Daly News
- 6:30 Cheyenne
- 7:30 Richard Nixon
- 8:00 John Kennedy
- 8:30 Spike Jones
- 9:00 Comedy Showcase
- 9:30 June Allyson
- 10:00 To Tell the Truth
- 10:30 Weather & News
- 10:45 MGM Playhouse

KTBS-Channel 3

- 7:30 Test Pattern
- 8:00 Oral Roberts
- 8:30 "The Living Way"
- 9:00 Morning Matinee
- 9:30 Morning Matinee
- 10:45 Highland Bapt. Church
- 11:45 Inside Sports
- 12:00 The News Today
- 12:15 On Deck Circle
- 12:25 Baseball, Los Angeles vs. Milwaukee
- 3:00 National Tennis Championships
- 4:30 Sports Feature
- 5:00 New Search for Talent
- 5:30 Ed Newman Reporting
- 6:00 Overland Trail
- 7:00 Maverick
- 8:00 Summer Mystery Show
- 9:00 Loretta Young Show
- 9:30 This Man Dawson
- 10:00 Cheyenne
- 11:00 The Big Movie
- 12:00 News Finals
- 12:05 Sign Off

Wednesday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee
- 10:00 As the World Turns
- 10:30 Way of Life
- 11:00 Edge of Night
- 11:30 Uncovered
- 12:00 Restless Gun
- 12:30 Farm Digest
- 12:45 News & Weather
- 1:00 About Face
- 1:30 Queen for a Day
- 2:00 Day in Court
- 2:30 Gale Storm
- 3:00 Beat the Clock
- 3:30 Who Do You Trust
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 4:45 John Daly News
- 5:30 Captain Gallant
- 6:00 News & Weather
- 6:15 John Daly News
- 6:30 Cheyenne
- 7:30 Richard Nixon
- 8:00 John Kennedy
- 8:30 Spike Jones
- 9:00 Comedy Showcase
- 9:30 June Allyson
- 10:00 To Tell the Truth
- 10:30 Weather & News
- 10:45 MGM Playhouse

KSLA-Channel 12

- 6:15 Test Pattern
- 6:30 Ark-La-Tex Farmer
- 6:45 Your Pastor
- 7:00 Jones Junction
- 7:00 CBS News
- 8:15 Captain Kangaroo
- 9:00 The Life of Riley
- 9:30 On the Go
- 10:00 I Love Lucy
- 10:30 December Bride
- 11:00 Love of Life
- 11:30 Search for Tomorrow
- 11:45 The Guiding Light
- 12:00 Channel 12 News
- 12:10 Weather/Ag. Summary
- 12:15 Pete Smith Specialties
- 12:30 As the World Turns
- 1:00 For Better or Worse
- 1:30 House Party
- 2:00 The Millionaire
- 2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
- 3:00 The Brighter Day
- 3:15 The Secret Storm
- 3:30 The Edge of Night
- 4:00 Cinema XII
- 5:30 Quick Draw McGraw
- 6:00 Early Edition News
- 6:10 Early Edition Weather
- 6:15 Delinea — Shreveport
- 6:30 The Aquanauts
- 7:30 Tombstone Territory
- 8:00 The Millionaire
- 8:30 I've Got a Secret
- 9:00 Dishonor System
- 10:00 June Allyson
- 10:30 Final Edition News
- 10:40 Final Edition Weather
- 10:45 Night Owl Theater
- 12:05 Vespers

KTBS-Channel 3

- 6:30 Test Pattern
- 7:00 Today
- 7:25 Local News & Weather
- 7:30 Today
- 8:00 Dough Re Mi
- 9:30 Play Your Hunch
- 10:00 The Price Is Right
- 10:30 Concentration
- 11:00 Truth or Consequences
- 11:30 It Could Be You
- 12:00 Local News & Weather
- 12:15 Cartoon Corners
- 12:30 Queen for a Day
- 1:00 Jan Murray Show
- 1:30 Loretta Young Theatre
- 2:00 Young Dr. Malone
- 2:30 From These Roots
- 3:00 Comedy Theatre
- 3:30 Adventure Theatre
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 5:00 The Three Stooges
- 5:30 My Friend Flicka
- 6:00 Local News & Weather
- 6:10 Sports Review
- 6:15 Huntley Brinkley Report
- 6:30 Curtis Tanner
- 7:30 The Price Is Right
- 8:00 Happy
- 8:30 Tale
- 9:00 This Is Your Life
- 9:30 Shotgun Slade
- 10:00 Local News & Weather
- 10:15 Peter Gunn
- 10:45 Jack Paar Show
- 12:00 News Finals
- 12:05 Sign Off

Thursday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee

Friday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee
- 10:00 As the World Turns
- 10:30 Way of Life
- 11:00 Edge of Night
- 11:30 Uncovered
- 12:00 Restless Gun
- 12:30 Farm Digest
- 12:45 News & Weather
- 1:00 About Face
- 1:30 Queen for a Day
- 2:00 Day in Court
- 2:30 Gale Storm
- 3:00 Beat the Clock
- 3:30 Who Do You Trust
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 4:45 John Daly News
- 5:30 Captain Gallant
- 6:00 News & Weather
- 6:15 John Daly News
- 6:30 Cheyenne
- 7:30 Richard Nixon
- 8:00 John Kennedy
- 8:30 Spike Jones
- 9:00 Comedy Showcase
- 9:30 June Allyson
- 10:00 To Tell the Truth
- 10:30 Weather & News
- 10:45 MGM Playhouse

KTBS-Channel 3

- 7:30 Test Pattern
- 8:00 Oral Roberts
- 8:30 "The Living Way"
- 9:00 Morning Matinee
- 9:30 Morning Matinee
- 10:45 Highland Bapt. Church
- 11:45 Inside Sports
- 12:00 The News Today
- 12:15 On Deck Circle
- 12:25 Baseball, Los Angeles vs. Milwaukee
- 3:00 National Tennis Championships
- 4:30 Sports Feature
- 5:00 New Search for Talent
- 5:30 Ed Newman Reporting
- 6:00 Overland Trail
- 7:00 Maverick
- 8:00 Summer Mystery Show
- 9:00 Loretta Young Show
- 9:30 This Man Dawson
- 10:00 Cheyenne
- 11:00 The Big Movie
- 12:00 News Finals
- 12:05 Sign Off

Saturday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee
- 10:00 As the World Turns
- 10:30 Way of Life
- 11:00 Edge of Night
- 11:30 Uncovered
- 12:00 Restless Gun
- 12:30 Farm Digest
- 12:45 News & Weather
- 1:00 About Face
- 1:30 Queen for a Day
- 2:00 Day in Court
- 2:30 Gale Storm
- 3:00 Beat the Clock
- 3:30 Who Do You Trust
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 4:45 John Daly News
- 5:30 Captain Gallant
- 6:00 News & Weather
- 6:15 John Daly News
- 6:30 Cheyenne
- 7:30 Richard Nixon
- 8:00 John Kennedy
- 8:30 Spike Jones
- 9:00 Comedy Showcase
- 9:30 June Allyson
- 10:00 To Tell the Truth
- 10:30 Weather & News
- 10:45 MGM Playhouse

KSLA-Channel 12

- 6:15 Test Pattern
- 6:30 Ark-La-Tex Farmer
- 6:45 Your Pastor
- 7:00 Jones Junction
- 7:00 CBS News
- 8:15 Captain Kangaroo
- 9:00 The Life of Riley
- 9:30 On the Go
- 10:00 I Love Lucy
- 10:30 December Bride
- 11:00 Love of Life
- 11:30 Search for Tomorrow
- 11:45 The Guiding Light
- 12:00 Channel 12 News
- 12:10 Weather/Ag. Summary
- 12:15 Pete Smith Specialties
- 12:30 As the World Turns
- 1:00 For Better or Worse
- 1:30 House Party
- 2:00 The Millionaire
- 2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
- 3:00 The Brighter Day
- 3:15 The Secret Storm
- 3:30 The Edge of Night
- 4:00 Cinema XII
- 5:30 Quick Draw McGraw
- 6:00 Early Edition News
- 6:10 Early Edition Weather
- 6:15 Delinea — Shreveport
- 6:30 The Aquanauts
- 7:30 Tombstone Territory
- 8:00 The Millionaire
- 8:30 I've Got a Secret
- 9:00 Dishonor System
- 10:00 June Allyson
- 10:30 Final Edition News
- 10:40 Final Edition Weather
- 10:45 Night Owl Theater
- 12:05 Vespers

KTBS-Channel 3

- 7:30 Test Pattern
- 8:00 Oral Roberts
- 8:30 "The Living Way"
- 9:00 Morning Matinee
- 9:30 Morning Matinee
- 10:45 Highland Bapt. Church
- 11:45 Inside Sports
- 12:00 The News Today
- 12:15 On Deck Circle
- 12:25 Baseball, Los Angeles vs. Milwaukee
- 3:00 National Tennis Championships
- 4:30 Sports Feature
- 5:00 New Search for Talent
- 5:30 Ed Newman Reporting
- 6:00 Overland Trail
- 7:00 Maverick
- 8:00 Summer Mystery Show
- 9:00 Loretta Young Show
- 9:30 This Man Dawson
- 10:00 Cheyenne
- 11:00 The Big Movie
- 12:00 News Finals
- 12:05 Sign Off

Sunday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 8:00 The Big Picture
- 8:00 America's News Reel
- 8:00 MGM Playhouse
- 8:45 Industry on Parade
- 9:00 MGM Playhouse
- 9:00 First Baptist Church
- 9:00 Baseball, New York at Cleveland
- 9:00 Baseball Scoreboard
- 9:00 Pro Football, Houston at Oakland
- 9:15 Sports
- 9:20 News
- 9:25 Weather
- 9:30 Dennis the Menace
- 9:30 Lassie
- 9:30 Adventures in Paradise
- 9:30 Lawman
- 9:30 The Rebel
- 9:30 Alfred Hitchcock Presents
- 9:30 Tightrope
- 9:30 Ed Sullivan Show
- 10:30 Jeannie Carson Show
- 11:00 MGM Playhouse

KSLA-Channel 12

- 8:00 Herald of Truth
- 8:30 The Christophers
- 9:00 Classroom 12
- 9:15 Hour of Worship
- 9:30 Classroom 12
- 10:30 "The Answer"
- 11:00 French Touch
- 12:00 Baseball, New York at Baltimore
- 3:00 Jungle
- 3:15 This Is the Life
- 3:45 Songs of Inspiration
- 4:00 Summer Olympics
- 4:30 Sherlock Holmes
- 5:00 Summer Olympics
- 5:30 20th Century
- 6:00 Lassie
- 6:30 Dennis the Menace
- 7:00 Ed Sullivan Show
- 8:00 Ronald Reagan Theater
- 8:30 Hitchcock Presents
- 9:00 Lucy in Connecticut
- 9:30 What's My Line
- 10:00 Boston Blackie
- 10:30 Final Edition News
- 10:40 Final Edition Weather
- 10:45 Summer Olympics
- 11:00 Night Owl Theater
- 12:00 Vespers

KTBS-Channel 3

- 7:30 Test Pattern
- 8:00 Oral Roberts
- 8:30 "The Living Way"
- 9:00 Morning Matinee
- 9:30 Morning Matinee
- 10:45 Highland Bapt. Church
- 11:45 Inside Sports
- 12:00 The News Today
- 12:15 On Deck Circle
- 12:25 Baseball, Los Angeles vs. Milwaukee
- 3:00 National Tennis Championships
- 4:30 Sports Feature
- 5:00 New Search for Talent
- 5:30 Ed Newman Reporting
- 6:00 Overland Trail
- 7:00 Maverick
- 8:00 Summer Mystery Show
- 9:00 Loretta Young Show
- 9:30 This Man Dawson
- 10:00 Cheyenne
- 11:00 The Big Movie
- 12:00 News Finals
- 12:05 Sign Off

Monday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee
- 10:00 As the World Turns
- 10:30 Way of Life
- 11:00 Edge of Night
- 11:30 Uncovered
- 12:00 Restless Gun
- 12:30 Farm Digest
- 12:45 News & Weather
- 1:00 About Face
- 1:30 Queen for a Day
- 2:00 Day in Court
- 2:30 Gale Storm
- 3:00 Beat the Clock
- 3:30 Who Do You Trust
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 4:45 John Daly News
- 5:30 Captain Gallant
- 6:00 News & Weather
- 6:15 John Daly News
- 6:30 Cheyenne
- 7:30 Richard Nixon
- 8:00 John Kennedy
- 8:30 Spike Jones
- 9:00 Comedy Showcase
- 9:30 June Allyson
- 10:00 To Tell the Truth
- 10:30 Weather & News
- 10:45 MGM Playhouse

KSLA-Channel 12

- 6:15 Test Pattern
- 6:30 Ark-La-Tex Farmer
- 6:45 Your Pastor
- 7:00 Jones Junction
- 7:00 CBS News
- 8:15 Captain Kangaroo
- 9:00 The Life of Riley
- 9:30 On the Go
- 10:00 I Love Lucy
- 10:30 December Bride
- 11:00 Love of Life
- 11:30 Search for Tomorrow
- 11:45 The Guiding Light
- 12:00 Channel 12 News
- 12:10 Weather/Ag. Summary
- 12:15 Pete Smith Specialties
- 12:30 As the World Turns
- 1:00 For Better or Worse
- 1:30 House Party
- 2:00 The Millionaire
- 2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
- 3:00 The Brighter Day
- 3:15 The Secret Storm
- 3:30 The Edge of Night
- 4:00 Cinema XII
- 5:30 Quick Draw McGraw
- 6:00 Early Edition News
- 6:10 Early Edition Weather
- 6:15 Delinea — Shreveport
- 6:30 The Aquanauts
- 7:30 Tombstone Territory
- 8:00 The Millionaire
- 8:30 I've Got a Secret
- 9:00 Dishonor System
- 10:00 June Allyson
- 10:30 Final Edition News
- 10:40 Final Edition Weather
- 10:45 Night Owl Theater
- 12:05 Vespers

Tuesday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee

Wednesday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee
- 10:00 As the World Turns
- 10:30 Way of Life
- 11:00 Edge of Night
- 11:30 Uncovered
- 12:00 Restless Gun
- 12:30 Farm Digest
- 12:45 News & Weather
- 1:00 About Face
- 1:30 Queen for a Day
- 2:00 Day in Court
- 2:30 Gale Storm
- 3:00 Beat the Clock
- 3:30 Who Do You Trust
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 4:45 John Daly News
- 5:30 Captain Gallant
- 6:00 News & Weather
- 6:15 John Daly News
- 6:30 Cheyenne
- 7:30 Richard Nixon
- 8:00 John Kennedy
- 8:30 Spike Jones
- 9:00 Comedy Showcase
- 9:30 June Allyson
- 10:00 To Tell the Truth
- 10:30 Weather & News
- 10:45 MGM Playhouse

KTBS-Channel 3

- 7:30 Test Pattern
- 8:00 Oral Roberts
- 8:30 "The Living Way"
- 9:00 Morning Matinee
- 9:30 Morning Matinee
- 10:45 Highland Bapt. Church
- 11:45 Inside Sports
- 12:00 The News Today
- 12:15 On Deck Circle
- 12:25 Baseball, Los Angeles vs. Milwaukee
- 3:00 National Tennis Championships
- 4:30 Sports Feature
- 5:00 New Search for Talent
- 5:30 Ed Newman Reporting
- 6:00 Overland Trail
- 7:00 Maverick
- 8:00 Summer Mystery Show
- 9:00 Loretta Young Show
- 9:30 This Man Dawson
- 10:00 Cheyenne
- 11:00 The Big Movie
- 12:00 News Finals
- 12:05 Sign Off

Thursday

KCMC-Channel 6

- 7:00 Grand Ole Opry
- 7:30 News & Weather
- 7:45 Morning Matinee
- 10:00 As the World Turns
- 10:30 Way of Life
- 11:00 Edge of Night
- 11:30 Uncovered
- 12:00 Restless Gun
- 12:30 Farm Digest
- 12:45 News & Weather
- 1:00 About Face
- 1:30 Queen for a Day
- 2:00 Day in Court
- 2:30 Gale Storm
- 3:00 Beat the Clock
- 3:30 Who Do You Trust
- 4:00 American Bandstand
- 4:45 John Daly News
- 5:30 Captain Gallant
- 6:00 News & Weather
- 6:15 John Daly News
- 6:30 Cheyenne
- 7:30 Richard Nixon
- 8:00 John Kennedy
- 8:30 Spike Jones
- 9:00 Comedy Showcase
- 9:30 June Allyson
- 10:00 To Tell the Truth
- 10:30 Weather & News
- 10:45 MGM Playhouse

KSLA-Channel 12

- 6:15 Test Pattern
- 6:30 Ark-La-Tex Farmer
- 6:45 Your Pastor
- 7:00 Jones Junction
- 7:00 CBS News
- 8:15 Captain Kangaroo
- 9:00 The Life of Riley
- 9:30 On the Go
- 10:00 I Love Lucy
- 10:30 December Bride
- 11:00 Love of Life
- 11:30 Search for Tomorrow
- 11:45 The Guiding Light
- 12:00 Channel 12 News
- 12:10 Weather/Ag. Summary
- 12:15 Pete Smith Specialties
- 12:30 As the World Turns
- 1:00 For Better or Worse
- 1:30 House Party
- 2:00 The Millionaire
- 2:30 The Verdict Is Yours
- 3:00 The Brighter Day
- 3:15 The Secret Storm
- 3:30 The Edge of Night
- 4:00 Cinema XII
- 5:30 Quick Draw McGraw
- 6:00 Early Edition News
- 6:10 Early Edition Weather
- 6:15 Delinea — Shreveport
- 6:30 The Aquanauts
- 7:30 Tombstone Territory
- 8:00 The Millionaire
- 8:30 I've Got a Secret
- 9:00 Dishonor System
- 10:00 June Allyson
- 10:30 Final Edition News
- 10:40 Final Edition Weather
- 10:45 Night Owl Theater
- 12:05 Vespers

KTBS-Channel 3

- 7:30 Test Pattern
- 8:00 Oral Roberts
- 8:30 "The Living Way"
- 9:00 Morning Matinee
- 9:30 Morning Matinee
- 10

SELL AND PROFIT... BUY AND SAVE... GET A BETTER JOB... HIRE GOOD HELP!

Read and Use the Want Ads!

WANT AD RATES

All Want Ads are payable in advance but will be accepted over the telephone and accompanied by cash or check. The advertiser's account is payable when statement is rendered. Number One Three Six One

Words	Day	Days	Month
Up to 15	45	90	1.50
16 to 25	60	120	2.00
26 to 35	75	150	2.50
36 to 45	90	180	3.00
46 to 55	105	210	3.50
56 to 65	120	240	4.00
66 to 75	135	270	4.50
76 to 85	150	300	5.00

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

1 line 80c per inch
2 lines 1.50 per inch
3 lines 2.25 per inch
4 lines 3.00 per inch
5 lines 3.75 per inch
6 lines 4.50 per inch
7 lines 5.25 per inch
8 lines 6.00 per inch
9 lines 6.75 per inch
10 lines 7.50 per inch
11 lines 8.25 per inch
12 lines 9.00 per inch
13 lines 9.75 per inch
14 lines 10.50 per inch
15 lines 11.25 per inch
16 lines 12.00 per inch
17 lines 12.75 per inch
18 lines 13.50 per inch
19 lines 14.25 per inch
20 lines 15.00 per inch

2 - Notice
For Subscriptions to Texarkana Gazette, call P. B. Holt, local agent. Phone 7-3656. Early delivery assured. 9-10-1 mop

5 - Funeral Directors
AMBULANCE SERVICE, Burial Association, OAKCREST FUNERAL HOME, Dial 7-6772. 5-4-1f

21 - Used Cars
FOR SALE: 1956 Chevrolet Bel Air, 2-door, radio and heater, extra clean, excellent running condition, practically new tires and low mileage. Pay equity and assume small monthly payments. Contact Donal Parker, 7-3431. 1f

FOR SALE: 1948 Chevrolet, very clean, top shape. See at Bodcaw High School or call Twin Oaks 9-2254. 9-5-6tp

25 - Furniture & Appliances
REPOSSESSED TV'S
Several repossessed A-1 condition TV's priced from $40 up thoroughly checked and ready for many many hours of enjoyment for your family.

3-Pc. bedroom suite, excellent condition .. $75
2-Pc. living room suite $75
New 9x12 linoleum rugs $4.88

BAKER'S
Easy Pay Store
214 East 2nd Dial 7-2723

29 - Sewing Machines
SINGER SEWING MACHINE CO. Sales and Service, 513 East 3rd. L. E. Booth, Phone PR 7-6695. 14-tf

33 - Air Conditioners
FOR SALE: One three ton Chrysler Air Temp air conditioner, practically new, ideal for small offices, restaurants or home. Call Mike Kelley, Dial 7-2601. 8-8-1f

34 - Slaughtering Processing
RALPH Montgomery Market, custom slaughtering. Meat for your deep freeze. We buy cattle and hogs. 11-tf

CALL JESSE MORRIS for custom slaughtering and processing meats, buying hogs and cattle. Dial 7-3578 or 7-4431. 6-30-1f

CUSTOM Slaughtering: Beef or pork cut and wrapped for your deep freeze. Contact Barry's Grocery, 7-4404. 7-29-1f

WE ARE dressing poultry, processing beef and pork, for everyone. Call MOORE BROS. 7-4431. 8-19-1f

62 - Barber Service
VISIT OUR new barber shop soon. Delmer Phipps welcomes your patronage. Open 10 a.m. 'til 10 p.m. PERRY'S TRUCK STOP, Dial 7-9974, Highway 67 East. 5-26-1f

35 - Farm Products

FOR SALE: Miscellaneous at improvement Station. Special price $2.00 per bushel. $1.00 per 12 bushel in your container. Container furnished for 25c. Starting Tuesday, Sept. 6th, will pick every day until harvest is over. Excellent quality, first come, first served. Call at office. 9-5-6tc

FOR SALE: Good mixed Lespedeza and grass hay on the meadow. Dial 7-1173. 9-8-6tc

40 - Livestock
FOR SALE: Two pretty colts ready to go to the show. Age 6 months. Tom Wardlaw, Hope, Dial 7-3833. 9-9-6tc

46 - Services Offered
LET US renovate your old mattress. We specialize in pressurized inspringing.
COBB MATTRESS SHOP
712 West 4th, Phone 7-2622

SERVICE OFFERED: Andersons 66 Service Station, Third and Hervey, washing, greasing, polishing, free pickup and delivery. Flats fixed. Open from 6 a.m. till 11 p.m. 8-24-1moe

TRACTOR WORK, plowing, discing, mowing, pasture clipping and general work. See Mike Snyder. Dial 7-3721. 9-8-1mop

47 - Repair Service
COMPLETE Radiator Service. Ward's Radiator Shop, 417 West 4th Street. Dial 7-2480, Night 7-4140. 5-26-1f

Guaranteed
For The Life
Of Your Car

MUFFLERS
Guaranteed Against Rust
For 2.50 Labor

Wylie Glass & Salvage Co.
West 3rd Street
Dial 7-2786 4-7-1moe

57 - Refrigeration Service
WEBB'S REFRIGERATION SERVICE, Domestic, Commercial, Auto Air Conditioning. Dial 7-5512, 504 East 5th Street. 4-21-1f

68 - Car Rentals
RENT a new car. Avis Rent-A-Car, PERRY'S TRUCK STOP, Highway 67 East, Dial 7-9974. 4-15-1f

69 - Truck Rentals
RENT a new pickup or bob truck. Ideal for moving household furniture, etc. Local or long distance. All furniture pads, dollies and loading equipment furnished. Rent it here, leave it there. Avis Rent-A-Truck, PERRY'S TRUCK STOP, Highway 67 East, Dial 7-9974. 4-15-1f

70 - Moving - Storage
MOVING long distance? Call Virgil Daniel Jr., Collect TU 7-3424. Nights TU 7-2806. Free estimate - Lower Rates. Prescott Transfer and Storage Co., Prescott, Ariz. 5-4-1f

81 - Female Help Wanted
SEW APRONS at home for stoves. No charge for material to fill orders. In our sixth successful year. Write: Adco Mfg. Co., Bastrop 1, Louisiana. 7-4-1f

WANTED: Experienced waitress, apply in person at the Diamond Cafe. 8-12-1f

WAITRESS, $30 per week, meals, tips, transportation. Dial 7-9948. 9-10-3tp

90 - For Sale
FOR SALE: 100 Acre Farm, 2 miles north of Palmos. Call or see H. E. Upchurch, Phone 7-5221. 9-5-6tp

82 - Male or Female Help Wanted

EXPENSES UP WITH SCHOOL STARTING?

You can earn $2.00 or more per hour as an "Avoit" Representative. Opening for 1 white and 1 colored representative in Hope.
Write: Dist. Mgr., Box 944, Texarkana, Texas 9-9-6tc

98 - Room & Board
COOKING AT ITS BEST Clean comfortable rooms, innerspring mattresses, attic ventilation. Hotel Snyder, Dial 7-3721. 8-23-1moe

101 - Houses for Sale
FOR SALE: New three bedroom house on Margaret Street. Five acres near City limits. Well and Gas. J. T. Easterling, Dial 7-2093. 9-7-12tp

102 - Real Estate for Sale
Modern three bedroom home in excellent condition, corner lot, landscaped, 500 South Bonner street.
Two bedroom home in tip-top shape and close in. Garage, landscaped, fenced backyard with plenty trees, 509 South Spruce.

Six rooms and carport, corner lot with 200 feet fronting on West Fourth street. Immediate possession.
LEONARD ELLIS
Real Estate - Insurance - Loans
108 East Second Phone 7-2221 9-9-6tc

Queen Is Crowned
MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) - Glenda Ann Rawls, 17, of Crosssett was crowned Southeast Arkansas district forest queen Tuesday night and will represent the district in the state forest queen contest Sept. 16 in Little Rock.

Miss Rawls is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Rawls of Crosssett. She is a student at Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway.

Last year's southwest district winner, Claudette Smith of Star City, went on to win the state forest queen and Miss Arkansas title and is now competing in the Miss America contest as Miss Arkansas.

Revelry services will begin at the church.

All officers and members of the church are urged to be present. Election of officers for the new year will be held. All Auxiliaries of the church are asked to be present with $2.50.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

The Negro Community

Esther Hicks
Phone 7-4678 or 7-4474

Thought For The Day
You save an old man and you save a unit, but save a boy, and you save a multiplication table. Gipsy Smith.

Calendar of Events
The Altar Guild Club of Bebee Memorial CME Church will meet in the home of Mrs. Dan Hamilton Sunday, Sept. 11 at 4 p.m. All members are asked to be present.

The Southwest District Congress Chorus will meet the Division C Chorus in a battle of songs at Minns Chapel Baptist Church in Present, Sunday, Sept. 11 at 3 p.m. The public is invited. Rev. F. I. Williams, pastor.

Beauticians Chapter No. 16 will meet in the home of Mrs. Berry Randle Monday, Sept. 12 at 10 a.m. All members are asked to be present. Mrs. Berry Randle, president.

The Stewards' Board of Mt. Pleasant CME Church will sponsor a weiner roast at the church Saturday night, Sept. 10. The public is invited.

The Semonette Spiritual singers will appear at Macedonia Baptist Church, Columbus, Sunday, Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited. Rev. H. W. Watson, pastor.

The Mysterious Gospel Singers of Magnolia will appear at Bethel AME Church, Sunday, Sept. 11, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited and the program is sponsored by Mrs. Amy Johnson. Rev. J. S. Morgan, pastor.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Mt. Pleasant CME Church will be held Saturday, Sept. 10 at 2:30 p.m. with Dr. F. D. Adams, presiding elder in charge.

All officers and members of the church are urged to be present. Election of officers for the new year will be held. All Auxiliaries of the church are asked to be present with $2.50.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Regular worship service will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited. Rev. A. Morris, acting pastor; Rev. F. D. Adams, presiding elder; Mrs. Claudia M. Modisette, chairman of public relations.

Revival services will begin at the church.

Ray Norton Dejected Over Race

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) - "I can't do anything right," said Ray Norton dejectedly. "First I run too slow, then I run too fast."

"So, what happens? I become the best of the Olympics. There's nothing I can do about it. It's a memory I'll have to live with for life."

The world collapsed Thursday for the rangy San Jose State College student from Oakland, Calif., America's champion sprinter. His series of failures was climaxed by a blunder which cost the United States a victory in the 400-meter relay.

Norton, running the second leg, became too anxious and overran his zone in receiving the baton from teammate Frank Budd of Asbury Park, N.J.

The Americans nipped the strong German team at the wire in a fantastic race with Dave Sime running a tremendous anchor, only to be disqualified because of Norton's error.

Previously Norton, by his own admission "tied up in knots" from nervousness, had run last in the six-man finals of the 100 and 200 meter races, losing for America a sprint dominance which it had held for 32 years.

Thursday's mistake was a crowning blow. The tall Negro athlete tried to keep his chin up, but he couldn't completely hide all the agonies that "chewed away" at him.

"Ray can't fool me, I can tell," said Wilma Rudolph, winner of three gold medals and America's heroine of the women's track competition. "He tries to play it cool, but I know he is dying inside."

Wilma won her third gold medal by anchoring the women's relay team to victory and then fled Olympic stadium in tears Thursday because of Norton's shame.

Ray and Wilma are the strange goat and heroine sweetheart combination of these 17th Olympic games. They have been inseparable. Ray has cheered the willowy Tennessee girl in her historic sprint triumphs. Wilma has commiserated with Ray during his mushrooming miseries.

"After I get home from this trip, I don't think I'll ever run again," Norton said. "I've had it. Now I'd better go out and try to make a living. I hate to end my career on this sour note, but that's the way it has to be."

Three Americans, Lee Calhoun in the 110 meter hurdles, Glenn Davis in the 400 meter hurdles, and Al Oerter in the discus successfully defended the titles they won at Melbourne in 1956.

Negroes played a prominent role in the American success. Medals are awarded only for three places in the Olympics, and out of the total of ten individual first won by the United States, Negroes accounted for six gold medals, three silver medals and four bronze medals.

Whites on the American team won four gold medals, five silver medals and two bronze medals. Negroes were a big factor in both relay victories as well.

Miss Sinatra to
Wed Tommy Sands

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Frank Sinatra's daughter, Nancy, 20, marries crooner Tommy Sands, 23, Sunday at a resort hotel in a sort of repetition of her mother's own romance.

The small civil ceremony will be at the hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., where Sands was singing a year ago.

Nancy Sinatra, who is divorced from Frank, says she and daughter Nancy went to the show and she saw her daughter mooning over Sands. It reminded Mrs. Sinatra of an earlier crush on an earlier crooner.

"Good heavens, I thought, it's my own life happening 20 years later," she said.

Think Counties
Deserve Help

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The chairman of the state Disaster Committee said Thursday that a 500-mile, six-county inspection tour disclosed that "pastures in south Arkansas are burning up, many without hope of recovery."

R. B. Stinson of Dumas accompanied James W. Cross, a regional representative of the Agriculture Department, on the trip through Cleveland, Miller, Nevada, Hempstead, Lafayette and Columbia counties.

The counties have asked to be designated drought disaster areas to qualify for purchases of surplus feed at low prices.

single that made it 4-3, and Klu then wrapped it up with a two-run double off southpaw Bobby Shantz.

Lennie Green and Bob Lemon homered for the Nats in support of Jack Kralick (7-4), who beat the A's and Dick Hall (7-12) with a seven-hitter. Ted Williams walked home run No. 27, the 549th of his career.

U. S. Barely Beat Russia in Track

ROME (AP) - The United States narrowly beat Russia in track and field, the blue ribbon sport of the Olympic Games, as the record book was torn into shreds.

With only the marathon remaining, America had 12 gold medals in men's and women's competition against 11 for the Soviets. Six of the Soviets' first places came in the women's events.

Five world records were smashed, four were tied, and 29 Olympic records were established in 34 men's and women's events.

A slender Negro girl from Clarksville, Tenn., emerged as the individual star of these games with three gold medals. Wilma Rudolph, 20, who couldn't walk as a child because of polio, won the 100 and 200 and anchored the American 400-meter relay team to a blazing victory. In a heat the American quartet set a world record of .444.

She took the 100 final in 11 flat which would be a creditable time for a man but the mark could not be allowed because of a slight wind. At that she tied the world record of .11.3. in a heat and set an Olympic record of .23.2 in a heat of the 200. Wind in her face slowed her in the finals.

In men's track and field, however, the American performance was below that of recent games. In all nine gold medals were won compared to 15 at Melbourne and 14 at Helsinki.

The chief disappointments were John Thomas, world record holder in the high jump at 7-3 1/4 who wound up third, Harold Connolly world record holder in the hammer who didn't even make the finals and Bill Alley, whose loss of 283-4 in the javelin is better than the world record. He also did not reach the finals. Al Cantello, the javelin record holder, finished tenth.

Ray Norton, the big American hope in the sprints, wound up sixth in both the 100 and 200, and flubbed a pass in the 400 meter relay which resulted in the disqualification of the United States four.

Three Americans, Lee Calhoun in the 110 meter hurdles, Glenn Davis in the 400 meter hurdles, and Al Oerter in the discus successfully defended the titles they won at Melbourne in 1956.

Negroes played a prominent role in the American success. Medals are awarded only for three places in the Olympics, and out of the total of ten individual first won by the United States, Negroes accounted for six gold medals, three silver medals and four bronze medals.

Whites on the American team won four gold medals, five silver medals and two bronze medals. Negroes were a big factor in both relay victories as well.

Miss Sinatra to
Wed Tommy Sands

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Frank Sinatra's daughter, Nancy, 20, marries crooner Tommy Sands, 23, Sunday at a resort hotel in a sort of repetition of her mother's own romance.

The small civil ceremony will be at the hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., where Sands was singing a year ago.

Nancy Sinatra, who is divorced from Frank, says she and daughter Nancy went to the show and she saw her daughter mooning over Sands. It reminded Mrs. Sinatra of an earlier crush on an earlier crooner.

"Good heavens, I thought, it's my own life happening 20 years later," she said.

Think Counties
Deserve Help

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The chairman of the state Disaster Committee said Thursday that a 500-mile, six-county inspection tour disclosed that "pastures in south Arkansas are burning up, many without hope of recovery."

R. B. Stinson of Dumas accompanied James W. Cross, a regional representative of the Agriculture Department, on the trip through Cleveland, Miller, Nevada, Hempstead, Lafayette and Columbia counties.

The counties have asked to be designated drought disaster areas to qualify for purchases of surplus feed at low prices.

single that made it 4-3, and Klu then wrapped it up with a two-run double off southpaw Bobby Shantz.

Lennie Green and Bob Lemon homered for the Nats in support of Jack Kralick (7-4), who beat the A's and Dick Hall (7-12) with a seven-hitter. Ted Williams walked home run No. 27, the 549th of his career.

Standings

Saturday Baseball
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
American League

W. L. Pct. G.B.
Baltimore 81 60 .501 -
New York 79 55 .500 1/2
Chicago 77 59 .566 3/4
Wasington 70 66 .515 10 1/2
Cleveland 67 68 .496 13
Detroit 61 75 .449 19 1/2
Boston 60 76 .441 20 1/2
Kansas City 48 88 .353 32 1/2

Friday Results
Chicago 5, Baltimore 2 (N)
New York 4, Detroit 1 (N)
Washington 8, Cleveland 2 (N)
Kansas City 3, Boston 2 (N)

Saturday Games
Washington at Cleveland
Baltimore at Chicago
New York at Detroit
Boston at Kansas City

Sunday Games
New York at Cleveland (2)
Boston at Chicago (2)
Washington at Detroit (2)
Baltimore at Kansas City

Monday Games
No games

National League
W. L. Pct. G.B.
Pittsburgh 83 52 .615 -
St. Louis 70 57 .571 6
Milwaukee 76 59 .563 7
Los Angeles 72 62 .537 10 1/2
San Francisco 67 68 .496 16
Cincinnati 62 70 .444 22 1/2
Chicago 53 80 .399 29
Philadelphia 50 85 .370 33

Friday Results
San Francisco 4-3, Cincinnati 2-3 (twi-ht)
Pittsburgh 4, Chicago 3 (N)
St. Louis 4, Philadelphia 1 (N; 5 innings, rain)

Saturday Games
Chicago at Pittsburgh
Los Angeles at Milwaukee
San Francisco at Cincinnati
St. Louis at Philadelphia

Sunday Games
Chicago at Pittsburgh (2)
St. Louis at

FLASH GORDON

TEMPERATURE 889N.

"It does use considerable gas . . . Mom sees to that!"

"Pop says that's the only business in town where the customer is always wrong!"

"A new hat is certainly a tonic. I feel strong enough now to shop for a whole new wardrobe to go with it!"

I WANT SOMETHING THAT'S FIGHTING FOR ME EVERY MINUTE!

AL VARNEY

EN!
E!
D

DON'T SOFT-SOAP ME, YOU ROCKING CHAIR BARNACLE! WALDO HACKLEVEN IS CONFINED TO HIS ROOM! TILL HE DIGS UP THOSE RACE TRACK WINNINGS I'VE JUST HEARD ABOUT!

THREE OTHER MEMBERS OF THE DISREPUTABLE OWLS CLUB CAME LOOKING FOR LOAN THIS MORNING. THE AMBULANCE JUST PICKED THEM UP! WHAT ARE YOU AFTER?

Bob Eckstein

art. by Bob Eckstein

Your Church

not a playground for Saints
but a hospital for Sinners

Attend

Hope Wire Products Co.
Harold Eakley

Meyer's Brown 'N' Serve Bakery
Fred Mathenia

Hope Beverage Co.
A. L. Page

Southern Plywood Co.

C. D. Hare & Son Food Store
C. D. and Calvin Hare

Bruner-Ivory Handle Co.
W. C. Bruner

Hope Basket Co.
Walter Verhalen